Picnic in the Park Joe Griffiths and Tony Pilgrim 	✓	✓	4-8	"Picnic in the Park" tells the story of Jason's birthday picnic and his guests. In so doing, it introduces children to a range of family structures, including two - and one - parent families; adoptive and foster families; gay and lesbian families; and stepfamilies. It also shows a diverse range of adults and children. Using the device of a birthday picnic in the park, each page shows a new set of guests coming to the party; children can draw their own and friends' families on the pages at the back. Vividly illustrated, this book is an invaluable tool for introducing children to contemporary family structures. It can be used with children in a wide range of situations, from school lessons about diversity to children who are to be adopted, in preparing them for a new family. Indeed, given the scope of the contents, this book could be used with any child in any setting to introduce them to modern -day family structures.

Daddy, Papa and ME Leslea Newman, Carol Thompson 	✓	✓	4-8	Rhythmic text and illustrations with universal appeal show a toddler spending the day with its daddies. From hide-and-seek to dress-up, then bath time and a kiss goodnight, there's no limit to what a loving family can do together. Share the loving bond between same-sex parents and their children in this heart-warming story of family.
Mommy, Mama and Me Leslea Newman, Carol Thompson 	✓	✓	4-8	Mommy, Mama, and Me depicts the gentle, nurturing relationship of a lesbian couple and their little one. In this sweet board book, the flowing lines and warm palette of Carol Thompson's mixed media illustrations work in concert with Lesléa Newman's rhythmic text. Also, see this book's gay-fathers counterpart, Daddy, Papa, and Me, by the same creators.

The Natural Mother of the Child: A Memoir of Nonbinary Parenthood Krys Malcom Belc 	✓			By considering how the experiences contained under the umbrella of “motherhood” don’t fully align with Belc’s own experience, The Natural Mother of the Child journeys both toward and through common perceptions of what it means to have a body and how that body can influence the perception of a family. With this visual memoir in essays, Belc has created a new kind of life record, one that engages directly with the documentation often thought to constitute a record of one’s life—childhood photos, birth certificates—and addresses his deep ambivalence about the “before” and “after” so prevalent in trans stories, which feels apart from his own experience.
